RAILWAY BLAMED FOR ACCIDENT

Storm of Criticism Follows Collision in H Street in Which Score Are Injured.

CARS RUN CLOSE TOGETHER; NOT SUPPLIED WITH SAND

Crash of Three Carriers Causes Mild Panic Among Passengers Going to Work.

As a consequence of the car crash at Sixteenth and H Streets Northwest yesterday morning, a storm of criticism against the Washington Railway and Electric Company is being made by the score of passengers who were injured and at least two score who escaped injury but were badly frightened.

It is stated by these passengers that if the cars had been properly supplied with sand and the sand had been used by the motorman to prevent the wheels from slipping on the wet tracks the accident could have been averted. It is also alleged that the cars were running too close together.

Car No. 100 of the Mount Pleasant line, running east in H Street, came to a sudden stop at Sixteenth Street. In the space of a second its rear end, of the Georgetown line, which had been crammed by the front of Car No. 156 of the Georgetown line, which had been crammed by the front of Car No. 100. Hardly had the passengers realized what had happened than the rear of Car No. 156 was rammed by another car of the Georgetown line, which had been closely following No. 156.

Panic Follows Crash. A mild panic ensued, but as soon as it was learned no one had been dangerously injured the frightened passengers grew calm. It was not necessary to call an ambulance, but a number of the passengers returned to their homes instead of continuing to their offices. Bruises, cuts and shock were the most serious injuries sustained.

John Hadley Doyle, of 3018 O Street Northwest, an employee of the Post-office Department, who sustained injuries of the back and legs, declares that the cars were being run too close together. The same opinion was held by John Kourup, of 3018 O Street Northwest, an employee of the Post-office Department, who sustained injuries to the legs and is suffering from shock. Charles Oberbach, of 1415 Twenty-ninth Street Northwest, a division chief in the General Land Office, was cut on the wrist, and Mrs. Margaret Pyne, an employee of the Post-office Department, sustained several painful contusions and is suffering from shock. Others who were injured refused to reveal their identity.

Most of the passengers were hurt by being thrown from their seats to the floor. Others were forced through windows, and a number who were standing were sent sprawling by the force of the impact.

Carmel Thompson to Resign as Secretary to President Taft.

Carmel Thompson, secretary to President Taft, will step out of that office next week to resume the practice of law. Mr. Thompson's political career commenced seven years ago when he entered the Ohio Legislature. He was elected speaker, and subsequently Secretary of State, and at the expiration of the term was sent back to the same office. Following the selection of Charles D. Hilles as manager of the Taft campaign, Mr. Thompson was made secretary to the President.

ARMY ARSENAL AT

BENNING BURNS;

LOSS IS $1,000,000

The United States suffered a loss of $1,000,000 in the burning of the main building of the army arsenal at Benning, Cal., Friday night, according to preliminary reports received at the War Department yesterday.

The main building, which was of granite and had been constructed in 1882, was totally destroyed. It contained 2,000 rifles of the latest model, about 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition, and large quantities of coast artillery and other stores. No lives were lost.

It is believed that the fire was due to spontaneous combustion, but this theory will not be finally accepted until further investigation has been made.

PREPARE TO FORM NAVAL RESERVE

Naval Department Wants to Get

Names of Those Who Might

Join Service.

The Navy Department has begun the preparation of data preparatory to the formation of a National Naval Reserve under such conditions as Congress may authorize. An analysis of the complement of a modern man-of-war shows not only that 50 per cent of the men of such complement are men of the sea, but that the greater part are skilled in work that is entirely confined to the navy. The demand, therefore, for new men in time of war can only be filled by those who have had this particular training. It is felt, however, that since modern wars begin quickly and last but a short time, the services of such men can be most valuable if employed by organizing in time of peace. Such is the object of the Naval Reserve.

But there is another object to be gained by getting together the men who have served in the navy. That object is to keep alive in their minds an interest in the navy by keeping alive the memories of their own associations. There is no class of men in the country whose experiences are so analogous to those who have served in the navy. The merchant sailor there are experiences of the sea, of strange ports, and foreign people; the man-of-war's man there are all these and more, for there are active campaigns in those remote places, and there are contests and competitions from baseball and boat races to turret gun and high speed runs.

The man-of-war's man of to-day and of the future will likely have some campaign larger or smaller in his experience. With his interest alive, the desire to return to the navy for a brief association with his old service, to renew personal associations and observe the changes and improvements in the material will, it is believed, be a great gratification to the ex-service men.

WATER SUPPLY FOR GOOD HOPE SECTION

Pumping Station to Be Erected at Eighteenth Street and Minnesota Avenue.

Water towers in Good Hope, Congress Heights, and at Thirtieth and R Streets, and a twenty-thousand-dollar pumping station to be erected at Eighteenth Street and Minnesota Avenue Southeast will not be the District's water supply until the Good Hope section is supplied with water from the Anacostia River. W. A. McFarland, superintendent of the District water department, under whose direction these plans are to be carried out, expects that the work will be completed by spring.

Two acres of ground have been purchased by the District at Eighteenth Street and Minnesota Avenue for $6,000. Plans for the pumping station to be built here, to cost about $12,000, have been completed. The equipment of the station will cost about $20,000. The entire project will cost about $40,000 and will be paid out of the general revenues of the water department.

The two water towers are to have a capacity of about 100,000 gallons each and will cost approximately $12,000. Negotiations are now under way to secure a plot of ground at the top of the hill in Good Hope. The District owns sufficient ground for construction of a tower at Thirtieth and R Streets. Part of the plot donated by Col. A. E. Randall, however, the construction of the Randall Highlands School will be used. The District's water supply at present does not reach any point east of the Anacostia River that is more than 100 feet above tide. The tower at Good Hope will be 200 feet above tide. Water pressure in the main at Congress Heights is about fifteen pounds to the square inch. The pumping station will increase this pressure to thirty-five or forty pounds an inch.

PUP "IN" HALF DOLLAR.

Other Half Sent to Treasury for Redemption.

This is the story of a pup that is "in" a half of a dollar bill; of a half of a bill that is in a pup, and a half that isn't. The owner of the dog is the cousin of John Conners, chief engineer of the tug James O. Conner, and lives in Massachusetts. Some days ago she was teasing her pet with a greenback when the dog grabbed it and swallowed half of the bill. The rest of the note was sent to the Treasury to be redeemed.

PANAMA TRIP OFF.

Fine Arts Commission Has No

Money to Visit Canal.

It developed yesterday that because of a shortage of funds, the Fine Arts Commission was not able to visit the Panama Canal to report and make recommendations regarding the artistic character of the structures at the canal as commissioned by Congress at the last session. The canal commission is precluded from paying the expenses of the artists to Panama by a decision handed down by Comptroller of the Treasury Tracewell.

The Fine Arts Commission was established May 15, 1910, and started out with an appropriation of $10,000, but this has been reduced year by year until at the last session $5,000 was voted for its expenses. The work the commission was to have inspected is to be done at Balboa and the Pacific lock.

RALLY AT CHEVY CHASE.

Democrats Plan Big Meeting for

October 29.

A Democratic rally at the Public Library at Chevy Chase, Md., has been planned for October 29 by the Wilson-Marshall-Lewis-Worthington Club of Chevy Chase.

Hannis Taylor, of Washington, Minister to Spain in Grover Cleveland's first administration, and State Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, will be the principal speakers. They will devote most of their attention to the recent legislation establishing the parcel post. Representative David J. Lewis, of Maryland, for whose re-election the club is working earnestly, was a leader in Congress for this measure.

After the rally a reception for Representative Lewis will be held.

Several churches in Switzerland are being heated

LIQUORS

Can Now Be Made at Home for 25

Cents a Quart.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Through a recent discovery of an expert distiller of this city a method has been discovered for making whiskies, liquors, and cordials in the privacy of the home. With a concentrated extract a smooth and mellow whisky, liquor, or cordial can be made, saving the liquor dealer's enormous profits. Requires no apparatus of any kind. A few minutes does the work. The question of legality of this process has been recently investigated and found to be legal and legitimate under all laws. This new method of making liquors at home will be welcomed by thousands of people, not only on account of the purity and excellence of the liquors that can be made, but on account of its great saving. With this new method a quart of delicious and healthful liquor can be made for 25 cents, equal in fact better than that sold at four times the price. It is, indeed, wonderful, and the discoverer of this product has received thousands of letters of praise. We understand that the discoverer of this wonderful product is permitting the liquor business to try a whole quart free on trial and we would suggest that any one who enjoys a real good whisky try the Universal Import Co., 307 Syracuse St., Cincinnati, Ohio, and ask for free trial offer, with booklet giving away secrets of the liquor business which will prove very interesting.
